Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, Claims 1-17 in the reply filed on 06/03/2005 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the search does not place a serious burden on the Examiner. This is not found persuasive because Examiner considers that it does. Search for the fixing member is significantly different from the search for the method of testing a fixing member which places a serious burden upon the Examiner.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1-17 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The independent claims 1, 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 10, 12 define a "pressure" as a "probe divided" by an "area" which is dimensionally inaccurate. Applicant may consider amending to additionally recite a load, such as --probe load-- instead of "probe".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ishikawa et al. (US Patent 6,618,573).

Ishikawa discloses testing a fixing member (endless belt 30) including carrying out a hardness test using a hardness meter (Shimazu Seisakusho DUH-201S).

Hardness for an acceptable member is based on applied load divided by the square of the indentation depth which is equivalent to "area of indentation as a function of indentation depth measured while the pressure is applied" as in the instant invention.

While the reference does not expressly recite the measurement is at room temperature the standard practice in testing hardness is to state a temperature only if different from room temperature so room temperature is considered inherent. The indentation depth is 3 μ m for an elastic layer up to 70 μ m thick, which is less than one-fifth the thickness as in the instant invention (column 9 line 47 to column 10 line 18). The 15 degree rubber used by Ishikawa is only medium hard so the indentation depth of 3 μ m is considered to remain within the elastic range of the material as in the instant invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 4, 6, 8, 9, 10, 12 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 5, 7, 11, 13-17 depending from claims with allowable subject matter are allowable for the same reason.

Please see earlier Office Action for reasons for allowance of claims 4-17.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The instant invention indents to only 1 μ m rather than 3 μ m as in Ishikawa.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
